INSTRUCTIONS

1. Cut out several stars from white cardstock paper. We used 9 stars for our patriotic windsock but dependent on the size of your stars, you can use as many or as little as you would like.
2. Use a glue stick to glue each of your white stars on a dark blue sheet of cardstock paper. You can align them in rows evenly, or spread them around your paper in any way you fancy.
3. Cut out three 18-inch sections of red crepe paper and three 18- inch sections of white crepe paper. Turn your dark blue cardstock so the white stars are face down. Glue the red and white crepe paper on the bottom one-third of the blue cardstock in a red, white, red, white pattern.
4. Bend your Fourth of July windsock into a circle, connecting the ends together. Place two staples at the top and bottom of the windsock to join the ends together.
5. Cut a red paper strip handle that is 1-inch by 8 1/2-inches. Add a generous amount of extra strength glue stick on each end of the paper strip and attach it inside the top of the windsock for a handle.
